The University may
- remit a HECS-HELP debt and/or refund up front student contributions;
- re-credit a FEE-HELP balance; and
- remit a FEE-HELP debt or
- refund or reverse fees for tuition payments for a unit(s) of study from which you withdrew after the census date, or had not completed the requirements for the unit(s), due to special circumstances.

How to apply

You must apply in writing to the Deputy Registrar for a re-credit, remission or refund by completing the following form found under the heading “How to apply”;

- Application to withdraw from unit(s) without penalty

Time Limits for applying

To be eligible for consideration for remission/refund, you must lodge your application:

- within 12 months of the date of withdrawal, or
- if you have not withdrawn, within 12 months of the end of the semester in which the unit(s) was, or was to be undertaken.

An application will be considered outside of these time frames, at the University's discretion, if it is satisfied that the application could not be made within the above time limits.

You must be granted either 'W', 'FW' 'FA' or 'F' grade for a unit(s) of study to be eligible.

You are not eligible if:

- you have passed your unit(s) in which you were enrolled.
- your debts were incurred for unit(s) taken before 1 January 2005 as the Department of Education, Science and Training (DEST) would have previously assessed them.

Notification of Decision

You will be notified of the outcome of your application and reasons for the decision within 28 days of the receipt of your application for financial penalty by the Commonwealth Loans Team. Please note: this will commence after your application has been considered for academic penalty (which can take up to 6-8 weeks).

Once a remission has been approved please note you will no longer be able to make any changes towards the academic grades for these units.

Right of Appeal for Unsuccessful applications

If your application for re-crediting and remission is unsuccessful, you have the right of appeal. You should write to the Deputy Registrar within 28 days of the date of the letter advising you of the outcome, outlining the grounds for your appeal. You will then be advised in writing of the outcome of the review.

If you are a Commonwealth Supported Student or Domestic Fee Paying FEE-HELP students, you have the right for your case to be reconsidered by the Administrative Appeals Tribunal (AAT) if you are unhappy with the decision.

International students and upfront tuition fee paying students have the right for your case to be referred to the Student Ombudsman Service.

For students still not satisfied you have the right to follow the Complaints and Appeals procedures.
What are special circumstances?

Each application will be examined and determined on its merits. As a general guide, special circumstances include those that are:

- beyond your control, and
- make their full impact after the census date, and
- make it impracticable for you to pass the subject, and
- are unusual, uncommon or abnormal

- are beyond your control

ie. a situation occurs which a reasonable person would consider is not due to the person's action or inaction, either direct or indirect, and for which the person is not responsible. This situation must be unusual, uncommon or abnormal. A lack of knowledge of how HECS-HELP or FEE-HELP work is not considered beyond a person’s control.

- AND

  did not make their full impact on you until on or after the census date

ie. your circumstances occurred

  (i) before the census date, but worsened after that day, or

  (ii) before the census date, but the full effect or magnitude did not become apparent until on or after that day, or

  (iii) on or after the census date.

- AND

  made it impracticable for you to complete the course requirements

ie.

  (i) undertake the necessary private study required, or attend sufficient lectures or tutorials or meet other compulsory attendance requirements in order to meet your compulsory course requirements, or

  (ii) complete the required assessable work, or

  (iii) sit the required examinations, or complete any other course requirements because of your inability to meet (i), (ii) or (iii).

Please Note: not completing your unit to your usual standards is not in itself a reason to be successful for a remission/refund in special circumstances. Your supporting evidence must show how your circumstances were beyond your control, impacted you after the census date and impacted you in such a way that it was impracticable for you to complete the requirements of the course.
Guidelines For Applying For Remission/Refund due to disruption of studies (Special Circumstances)

Special circumstances may cover:

| Medical reasons | where your medical condition existed prior to the census date, continued past that date and deteriorated to the extent that you are unable to continue your studies OR your medical condition only became known after the census date.
Example 1: You contract an illness prior to the census date. Your illness continues past the census date and deteriorates to the extent that you are unable to continue with your studies.
Example 2: Your medical condition only becomes apparent after the census date and the effects are sufficiently serious that it is impracticable for you to complete the course requirements and continue with your studies. |
| Family/personal reasons | due to unforeseen personal/family reasons that are beyond your control you are unable to continue with your studies.
Example 1: A member of your family suffers from a severe medical condition that requires you to provide full time care and as a result you are unable to continue with your studies.
Example 2: A member of your family or close friend dies and you are affected to the extent that you are unable to continue with your studies.
Example 3: You or your family’s financial circumstances change unexpectedly to the extent that you are unable to continue with your studies. |
| Employment related reasons | where your employment status or employment arrangements change unexpectedly due to circumstances beyond your control and you are unable to complete your studies.
Example 1: You are engaged in employment out of necessity and studying. Your employer unexpectedly increases your hours of employment in circumstances where you are unable to object. As a result you are unable to continue with your studies or complete your course requirements.
Example 2: You are engaged in employment out of necessity and studying. After the census date your employer directs that you be transferred to a different State. Your institution does not offer distance education and as a result you are unable to continue with your studies or complete your course requirements |
| Course related reasons | where your institution changes the arrangements for your unit or course and as a result you are disadvantaged to the extent that you are unable to complete the requirements of the course and continue with your studies.
Example 1: Your institution cancels your unit or course after the census date and as a result you are unable to complete the requirements of the unit or course.
Example 2: You enrol in a unit having applied for credit towards the units previously undertaken at another institution, and are not advised of the decision for credit by your institution until after the census date. |

What supporting documentation needs to be provided?

It is most important that you provide independent supporting documentation to support your claims.
It is not sufficient to provide only a personal statement outlining your special circumstances.

Depending on your reasons for applying for financial concession you also need to provide a statement from a doctor, counsellor or your employer to verify your claims.

Be aware that the University may contact any professional authority who has supported your application, to verify any information they have provided. Suspected false or misleading documents will be reported to the Discipline Committee and be subject to the University's Student Discipline Rules and Student Discipline Procedure.

What supporting documentation is required to support special circumstances for ongoing or long term illnesses?

Any independent supporting documentation must show how the circumstances worsened after each relevant session census date in which a refund is being requested. For any requests that are made for more than one session, the supporting documents MUST make particular mention of the impact of the circumstance after each session census date.
