

VEIP current research areas, projects and project leaders: 2022-3

1. . ASEAN region: English as a regional lingua franca, as a tool in Asian education. Leader: Andy Kirkpatrick
2. Australia: perspectives on Australian slang. Leader: Kate Burridge
3. Australia: Hansard as a diachronic corpus on changing expressions for immigrants and refugees. Leader: Adam Smith
4. Australia-New Zealand: epicentral relationships. Leader: Pam Peters
5. Fiji: sociolinguistics of Fiji English, the Indian diaspora. Leader: Marianne Hundt
6. HongKong + the Sinosphere: language reflecting and societal change. Leader: Kathleen Ahrens.
7. India and South Asian Englishes: epicentral Englishes. Leader: Tobias Bernaisch
8. Namibia: English as official language for a multilingual nation. Leader: Sarah Buschfeld
9. Oceania: Cook Islands, Fiji. Leader: Carolin Biewer
10. Philippines: codeswitching patterns in online discussions in Manila and Cebu. Leader: Loy Lising
11. Singapore: English in contact, sociocultural aspects. Leader: Edgar Schneider
12. South Africa: New grammatical constructions in South African English: Leader: Bertus van Rooy
13. Sri Lanka: lexicogrammar and pragmatic nativization. Leader: Tobias Bernaisch
14. Uganda: African and Indian Englishes in the postcolonial context. Leader: Christiane Meierkord