

MQ Photonics Research Centre Discussion Meeting

Title: "Surviving and Thriving in the time of Coronavirus"

Director Judith Dawes will report on the discussion from the recent Advisory Board Meeting for MQ Photonics, which focussed on the question, "How can the Centre survive and thrive in the current environment?" We will share ideas on what online activities we feel are needed to support the members of the centre - especially those HDR and ECRs with short term deadlines. We will also discuss the virtues of various communications channels - from LinkedIn to Slack and try to identify what channels we want to share as a community.

All welcome to join the meeting!
