Online Human Ethics Management System

Human Research Ethics applications are managed via the online Human Research Ethics Management System (applicant view).

Applications, amendments, annual / final reports and unexpected adverse reports must be submitted via this system. The review and approval processes are also managed via this system.

This Human Research Support wiki page provides detailed information to applicants, reviewers (ethics committees) and ethics administrators on how to submit and manage human ethics applications in the Human Ethics Management System.

Access the relevant resources and system links specific to your role:
