ARE YOU AGED 60 YEARS AND OVER?
ARE YOU INTERESTED IN HELPING WITH RESEARCH?

The Macquarie University Older Adult Research Database is a database for older adults interested in participating in research projects run through the Centre for Emotional Health at Macquarie University.

Researchers and students in the Centre for Emotional Health use the database to send participants information about their project and ask people if they are interested in being involved. Participants can accept or decline any invitations and can be removed from the database at any time. The projects tend to focus on understanding mental health and wellbeing in older adults. Research tasks typically involve completing questionnaires via mail, over the telephone or online, and sometimes involve attending research sessions in-person at the North Ryde campus. However, you are not required to participate in studies that are not convenient or of interest to you.

To join the database or receive more information, please send us your details on the attached form, or contact us by email, Olderadults.research@mq.edu.au, phone (02) 9850 8715, or via this link (https://tinyurl.com/olderadultresearch).