

Macquarie University Centre for Middle East and North African Studies is very proud to present a public talk by

Professor Amina Wadud

“Islam, Women and Reform”

Tuesday 2 March 2010

Macquarie University, W5A Theatre 1

6-8 pm

Amina Wadud is one of the world’s leading intellectuals in gender reform in Islam. Born in the United States, Professor Wadud is currently a visiting scholar at University of Melbourne, having retired from full time academic in order to devote more time to consultation on gender issues in Islam and human rights. Her last book is Inside the Gender Jihad: Women's Reform in Islam (2006).