

WE'RE UPDATING THE APPROVED LEARNING
FRAMEWORKS

STAGE 1 UPDATE

L to R: Assoc Prof Jennifer Cartmel, Prof Susan Irvine, Prof Linda Harrison, Assoc Prof Fay Hadley, Assoc Prof Lennie Barblett, Dr Francis Bobongie-Harris

STAGE 1 PROGRESS REPORT FROM THE CHIEF INVESTIGATORS

Thank you for registering for updates on this exciting project.

We are currently busy analysing data from the surveys shared on our website, working through feedback from Educators and Approved Providers, Families and Other Key Stakeholders, identifying current strengths and suggested areas for updating in the frameworks. We are also analysing the children and young people's contributions through drawing and text collected by our leading practitioners who are a part of the Consortium.

Last week, we hosted Focus Groups with Policy Officers, Authorised Officers and other colleagues who support the NQF in services and schools where rich conversation and insights were shared. Reflective of the survey, these colleagues shared perspectives on current strengths and potential areas for updating based on their interaction with services, including through the Assessment & Rating process.

The information sourced from our methodology above will be used to inform the Discussion Paper which will provide the foundation for Stage 2 of the project. We are thrilled to have such valuable contributions to help frame the next stage of this project which we will launch in mid-August.

We look forward to keeping you updated along the way.

More details at www.mq.edu.au/faculty-of-arts/alfsupdate