Joint Centre for Ageing, Cognition and Wellbeing (CACW) and BioNet Conference

ABOUT THE CENTRE
The Centre for Ageing, Cognition, and Wellbeing is a collaborative group of multidisciplinary researchers with interest in the normal and abnormal aspects of ageing. This includes research related to understanding and improving wellbeing related to neurodegenerative diseases, mental disorders, and health related conditions in the community and residential aged care.

ABOUT BIONET
BioNetwork’s mission is to expand the links between research and clinical medicine specialties, with a special interest in Macquarie University’s health priorities. In line with this mission it is well-timed to be during the decade 2020-2030 identified as the ‘decade of healthy aging’.
